About Our Poster Artists

Both artists will have framed and unframed posters for sale at the Affordable Framing booth, which is near the First Aid and Information Booths.

Jennifer Lommers (Booth C8) is a contemporary Oregon artist known for her vibrant nature-inspired paintings, often influenced by her Pacific Northwest surroundings. Most recently, as her studio practice continues to evolve, she adds new materials and techniques into her process, exploring how the organic shapes and patterns she enjoyed finding in paint can reveal themselves in more nuanced and intentionally personal mixed media and collage pieces. By choosing a purposely slower, more methodical path to explore, she reaches deeper into the emotional connections and experiences within to unravel the threads of a larger shared story.

Her The Secret Life of Joy painting appears on the cover of this program and will be on T-shirts and other memorabilia that will be for sale at the Information Booth.

Andrea Lopez is a Colombian self taught, mixed media artist, currently living and working in Vancouver, Washington. She is in Booth 6.

Andrea says, "My work is usually and foremost inspired by color and its delicious combinations, the vibrancy of my heritage and my daily work practice. In my paintings, you will find pieces of my childhood such as the religious imaginary I grew up with, elements of nature, my nostalgia for the old and the pleasure I find on being a story teller. I aim to use color and whimsical details to turn ordinary elements of our existence into a magical and joyful story." Her piece is titled Shalom, a peaceful place and is on all the Volunteer T-Shirts, as well as other memorabilia.

Welcome to the 74th Annual Salem Art Fair & Festival

The Salem Art Association or SAA is proud to present this year's Salem Art Fair & Festival. It's humbling (and awesome) to know that we've been a favorite part of Salem's summers for almost three-quarters of a century!

The Art Fair & Festival was honored this year with the Most Oregon Part of Oregon Award from Travel Salem. While we received the award, we know that it's really because all of you:

- Our artists
- Our entertainers
- Our food, wine, and beer vendors
- Our sponsors
- Our volunteers and staff
- And you – our visitors and guests

All of us together have made the Salem Art Fair & Festival one of the biggest and best in the Pacific Northwest, if not the entire West Coast. The caliber of our artist lineup is second to none, and we have artists from all over the country who come here just for this show. They come here because they know that our visitors and guests appreciate and buy high-quality art, and our awesome Artist Hospitality volunteers make sure they are treated right!

We've worked hard to bring in a wide variety of musicians and performers to keep everyone entertained throughout each day of the Art Fair & Festival. We truly have something for everyone this year!

I'd like to tell you a little bit about some of the other things SAA is doing. We've taken the Fair Art 2030 Pledge – this is a national effort by art museums, galleries, and art fairs to have better representation of women and historically underrepresented cultures and communities in our spaces by 2030. At SAA, this means our goal is to have at least 50 percent of our exhibition and represented artists come from these groups, along with the artists selected for this Art Fair. We have made good strides already and you'll be seeing more diversity in our galleries and at Art Fair over the coming years.

SAA is working to support art and creativity in all its forms. We have started a small but impressive series of intimate concerts at the Bush House Museum, and we started another concert series held at the Elsinore Theatre called Encore. The next one is October 19 – see the ad on the back cover of this program for more information.

I invite you to stop by the Bush Barn Art Center & Annex while you're here at the Art Fair & Festival to see our featured sculpture exhibition, Ripple Effect, and the Salem Salon show, along with our other exhibitions. We are open year round, and our shows change nearly every month so there is always something new to see. Admission to our galleries is free.

I also encourage you to tour the Bush House Museum here at the park. Stop by the Bush Barn Art Center to get your free tickets for one of the scheduled tours during Art Fair, but if you can't tour this weekend, we offer tours every week – just check our website (SalemArt.org) for more information. Our new America Waldo Bogle Gallery on the second floor has rotating exhibitions, along with our newest commissioned paintings by Jeremy Okai Davis of influential and important Black Oregonians.

So on behalf of the Salem Art Association and our presenting sponsor Spirit Mountain Casino, I want to thank you for being a part of this year's 74th Annual Salem Art Fair & Festival. I hope that you'll have a weekend filled with some great art, great music (and dancing!), and some of the best food, beer, and wine our area has to offer.

Matthew Boulay, Executive Director
Salem Art Association

Thank You To Our Sponsors

SALEM ART FAIR & FESTIVAL is one of the most successful and well-received art fairs in the Pacific Northwest, in part because of the generous support of our sponsors. Salem Art Association wishes to thank all these sponsors for their continued commitment to the arts and this long-time summertime tradition in the heart of Salem.

PAUL PRINCE

Friday – 1:30 p.m., Saturday – 1:30 p.m.

Originally from Honolulu, Prince, a composer, engineer and occasional instrument maker, plays acoustic in a very creative way, summoning a full sound with innovative techniques, intricate counterpoints, rich chords, melodies, harmonics, and powerful rhythm. Paul's experiences of recording, performing and touring has given him a unique appreciation, grounding and talent for inspiring melodies, finding different ways of blending the guitar with mbira(s) and ngoni in duets, trios, ensemble, and solo works. Passion for his self-made instruments, an ear for melody, and dedication have allowed Prince to forge a mysteriously inspired path towards his dream of a unique guitar sound while his singular approach frees the guitar to speak in new languages. Paul performs solo and on occasion in a trio in the Northwest, playing African guitar, Django swing, Ragtime, Soukous, Hendrix, and Hawaiian slack key.

Friday – 4:30 p.m.

Blackbird was formed in early 2009 when Steve Redig and son, Gabriel, joined with bassist Ole Bentz and drummer Steve Vallee with the common goal of playing some of rock's best classics across the Pacific Northwest. Knowing that the band's appreciation for the Beatles' catalog of songs was shared by so many people, they focused on a Beatles heavy song list that would allow the band to play a full 3 hours of live Beatles if requested – too bad they only have 1-1/2 hours on stage at the Salem Art Fair & Festival! After playing together for so long, all members of Blackbird enjoy sharing a stage with each other and it shows.

Salem Art Association & Bush House Museum

The Salem Art Association (SAA) has been bringing the arts and arts education to Salem and the surrounding communities. From providing art teachers for local school systems to artists lecture series to free art exhibitions in the Bush Barn Art Center & Annex (and everything in between), SAA works to create a vibrant arts community that harnesses the power of the arts and heritage to expand creativity and improve lives.

We also believe that art can generate thoughtful reflection and conversation, while fostering growth and healing across our community. Since we re-opened a year ago, SAA has highlighted and supported artists across a diverse range of experiences, perspectives, and studio practices. We are working to ensure that artists and communities that are historically underrepresented are welcomed and celebrated in our galleries.

Last year, the Bush House Museum re-joined SAA after being a separate non-profit organization for a few years. As caretakers of the Museum, SAA has a special responsibility to look closely at the legacy of Asahel Bush, and to acknowledge and condemn his racism.

We are currently working to redefine the history, artifacts, and art being presented at the Museum in a way that is inclusive and intentional, and that allows the stories of other early Oregonians to be heard, many for the first time. Please consider taking a tour of the Museum this weekend – you can find out more about the tours below.

If you want to support this work – and our other programs like community arts education – please consider becoming a member of SAA. There are several different levels of membership that can fit any budget.

SAA and the Museum welcome your feedback and, as always, are interested in hearing your ideas and suggestions for future programming and exhibitions.

FREE GUIDED TOURS OF THE BUSH HOUSE MUSEUM AND THE AMERICA WALDO BOGLE GALLERY

Enjoy a free tour of the Museum and Gallery, July 21-23 every half hour from 12:30 to 4:00 p.m. Built in 1878 for Salem's Bush Family, this historic house museum features original furnishings, fixtures and fine art. A second-floor gallery celebrates Oregon's rich Black history with paintings by Jeremy Okai Davis and sculpture by brothers Santigie and Sapata Fofana-Dura.

Tour tickets are available at the Bush Barn Art Center on a first-come basis. The first stop on the 45 minute tour is the America Waldo Gallery for those who only want to see the artwork of these contemporary Oregon Black artists, then exit the Museum. Visitors will enter through the front door and exit through the Library. The Bush House Museum is operated by the Salem Art Association on behalf of the City of Salem.
